No Official Word Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister to Great Britain, says he has received no confirmation of the report Port Arthur had fallen.

Late Report A late report this evening states that Kurapatkin says the Japanese renewed fighting all along the line today. The fighting yesterday was in all parts of the theatre of operations. Hise, president of the independent company, stated that the legal proceedings would be under federal laws based upon the allegation that the Standard policy is a discrimination of prices in restraint of trade.

BANK COMMISSIONER HITS TRUST CONCERNS

Official Claims That They Are Doing Regular Banking Business in Violation of the Law.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 27.—The trust companies of Pennsylvania were thrown into the air by a circular issued by Robert McAfee, commissioner of banking, calling attention to the fact that they were one and all "violating the state laws and that unless this was stopped their charters would be taken away."

Commissioner McAfee says the trust companies of the state have no right under the law to carry on a regular banking business or to discount paper. This is being done to a great extent all over the state. In fact, the trust companies of the state have been doing most of the banking lately, and this is to cut off the business.

The stockholders of the big trust companies are dumfounded. The cutting off of the big banking business will be keenly felt and not a few of the smaller concerns of the state, who have counted on their banking business, will be forced to the wall. Many Pittsburg trust bankers claim that it is but a scheme to force them into becoming state or national banks.

GAINS ON CROP NEWS.

Business Is Improved, but Industrial Disturbances Are Felt.

New York, Aug. 27.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: "Trade has improved somewhat, chiefly because of better crop prospects and the fact that last week's variations in prices of steel products failed to demoralize that industry. The industrial atmosphere is still disturbed by labor controversies, however, and it will be impossible to fully restore national prosperity until the proportion of voluntarily unemployed wage earners is greatly reduced. Dispatches from leading cities indicate irregular conditions, but there is increasing confidence in the future."

"Failures this week numbered 205 in the United States, against 176 last year, and in Canada thirty, compared with thirty-three a year ago."

DEMMIES ARE NOW PEACEFUL

Second Assembly District Convention Not a Harmonious One by Any Means.

HAVE NOW COMPLETED THEIR WORK

The Convention Fought Along the Lines of Fusion or Straight Party Politics—Straights Won Out.

The word harmony has been lost from the dictionary of the second assembly district democrats. Strife and discord marked the convention which assembled today at the courthouse. The great "unfriendly" democrats had met for a love feast. Instead, the apple of discord was thrown among them and they are even more widely split into factions than are the republicans of the county. In fact, so disturbed are some of the delegates to this assembly district convention that they have left the convention.

Two Factions Peter J. Mount presided over the second assembly district convention to elect delegates to the state convention. Immediately upon being called to order J. J. Cunningham arose and placed in nomination the following ticket: George Sutherland, P. J. Mount, J. J. Cunningham, E. H. Connell, Isaac Connors, and Geo. W. Turk. As soon as he had seated Otto Oestreich arose and nominated the following slate: George McKee, Warren Skelly, Otto Oestreich, Zull, Frank Roach, and George Turk.

Then the fun began. From some invisible list Chairman Mount began calling for the vote from towns and wards. He had refused to allow a vote by ballot, ruling it out of order. At the conclusion of the vote he announced the ticket headed by George Sutherland had won by a vote of sixteen to nineteen. Otto Oestreich immediately called for a recount, and demanded the proof of the count. Before he could put his motion properly Chairman Mount adjourned the meeting. So angry were some of the delegates that they left the convention apparently with no intention of returning.

Other Districts The other assembly districts elected the following delegates: First district, C. A. Hoan, C. F. Tallard, Edgerton, George Helmbolt, Orford, and R. H. Richmond, Evansville; third district, John Burns, Charles Oliver, Beloit, A. Moehlenpach, Clinton.

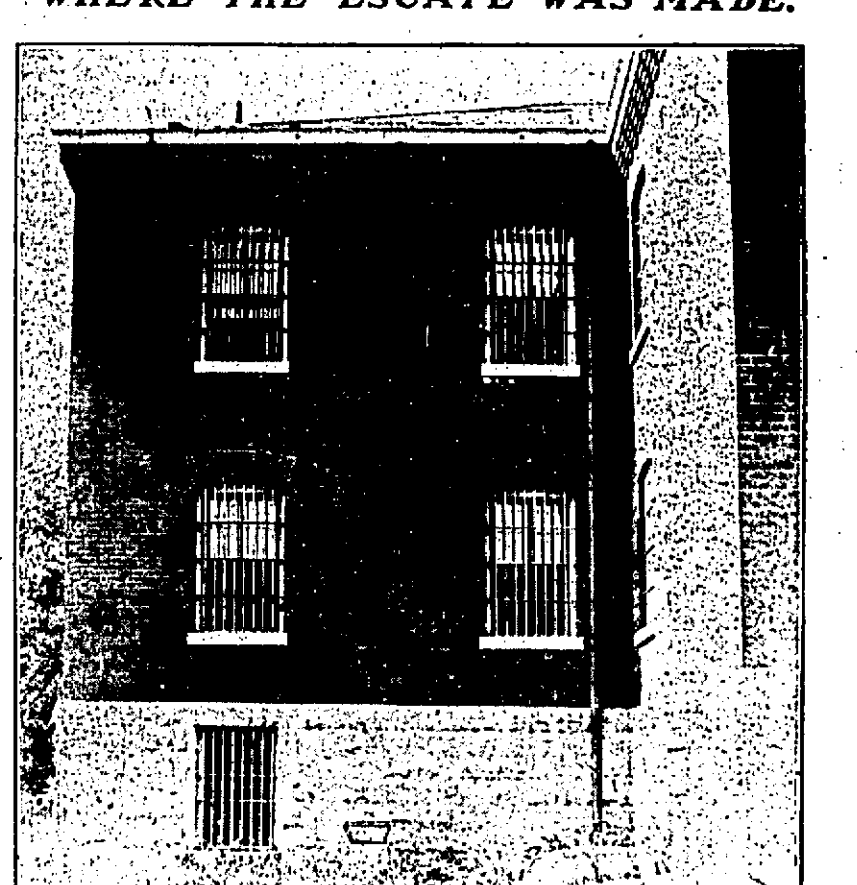

The Outlook From present indications at three o'clock, it looks as though the convention nominating county officers would be controlled by the element that favors a fusion with the La Follette republicans and the offices of sheriff and county clerk may be awarded to them for their promise of support. There is, however, a strong feeling among a goodly portion of the delegates that the ticket should be democratic from top to bottom. Ira Fisher is in the city working among the delegates to secure the sheriff nomination, but it is not

St. John Chosen Dr. J. W. St. John was chosen for the assembly by the second assembly district convention. The convention for state senate nominations was put over until September 24th. During the county convention the republican nominees for office sat on one side of the room and were attentive listeners. In the county convention the greatest harmony prevailed.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

Some years ago, when the game of polo was popular, the old skating rink on South River street was a favorite resort for championship games, and many friendly contests were held with clubs from neighboring cities.

These games always attracted a crowd of interested spectators, and the amusement was considered as harmless as baseball or any other outdoor game.

It remained for a traveling evangelist to denounce the sport, and put the seal of disapproval upon it. He was discussing amusements before an intelligent audience one evening and took occasion to say that the game of polo was being played for money by young men at the rink every night and that the click of the balls on the table was the music of the devil.

The poor ignorant man didn't know the difference between a game of pool and a game of polo. If he is still living he is probably shouting himself hoarse over a game of pit or flinch because he couldn't conscientiously sit down to a respectable game of whist.

Raymond Robbins, superintendent of the Chicago municipal lodging house, is reported to have said, in an address to Congressional ministers: "How many ministers have the backbone and nerve to go to the resorts against which they preach and talk to the persons they criticize? How many really know of the sins they preach against?"

"When a man is hungry he wants food before he wants the gospel. What he wants first of all is material assistance and that is what the church should be prepared to give him. The poor man who stole food for his family did right."

There is more truth than sentiment in the statement and while the last paragraph is a little strong, yet Mr. Robbins is in a position to know some things by experience, that are not visible to the ordinary observer. The great mass of humanity live on about the same level and their feet are necessarily on the ground most of the time. Every-day life to them is intensely real and practical.

They understand the bread and butter problem, and give but little thought to the supernatural or the life beyond. The writer or the teacher who commands their attention, must not only be in close touch with them, but he must be able to enlist their sympathies.

Humanity is elevated by lifting, and not by magnetic drawing. The multitudes never see beyond the clouds, and star gazers are always in the minority.

Much has been written during the past year or two about "why people don't go to church," and all sorts of explanations have been offered.

The fault is with the church and not with the people. The merchant who fails to attract people to his place of business might just as consistently charge his failure to the people, as for the church to place the responsibility in the same quarter.

There is too wide a gap between the church and the people, and the width has naturally increased since the day when the Master stood by the sea, or on the hill side, and gathered the multitudes about him.

Good people are prone to forget that the church belongs to the people and not the people to the church. Every church should be recognized as the people's church. The one place, next to the home, where men and women can turn for shelter and encouragement.

The young man who is standing close to the verge of ruin, may be destitute of a home, but he is surrounded by a score of churches on which he has a claim as a brother man. If he is not saved the church may be responsible for not knowing his condition, and placing a strong and helpful arm about him in his hour of peril.

He will not go to the church, but the church can go to him without fear of contamination.

The girl who has lost her reputation and whose character hangs in the balance, may have no mother to rescue her, but she has a claim on the church which cannot be ignored. Society may frown, and turn away, but not the church.

The family left destitute by the sudden taking away of the husband and father, may be strangers to the church, but they are children of one common Father, whose only Son is as much an elder brother as he would be were they members of some church.

The cloak of righteousness worn by many good people, who imagine that they occupy a pedestal above the common herd, is always a stumbling block, and never helpful.

The man who does the most good in the church, be he clergyman or layman, is the man who mixes most with the people.

The great heart of humanity is sympathetic. In the hour of common peril or disaster no lines are drawn between the church and the great outside world. This is just as true in the hour of personal sorrow.

The friend who brings the most comfort may or may not belong to the church. The brotherhood of man is broader than the brotherhood of the church. The opening years of the new century are noted for restlessness. The spirit of envy and jealousy was never more apparent and all sorts of theories are advanced for division of property.

Men who have great wealth, and who are conducting great enterprises, and furnishing employment to an army of people, are denounced and maligned from both pulpit and pew.

Labor, never more largely employed, or better paid than today, is encouraged to believe that it should share more liberally in profits, while taking no chances on losses.

Socialism is gaining a foothold in a land where it has no right to thrive and municipal and government ownership of public utilities is regarded by many as the cure-all for the ills of life.

While the church is not responsible for these conditions, it can do much more than it is doing to stem the tide.

The religion of every day life is a practical religion. The teachers respect to the rights of others, and is free from the taint of envy. When the golden rule is more generally recognized both the church and the world will share in the benefits.

PRESS COMMENT.

Marquette Eagle-Star: Mr. Bryan has singularly forgotten that wonderful purity between the price of wheat and of silver.

Racine Journal: In some manner the United States Shipbuilding company and Mr. Schwab came out ahead and all suits have been discontinued.

Marion Advertiser: The thing that hurts La Follette the worst is the fact that once in just about so long the people are entitled to a new deal.

Oshkosh Northwestern: From the amount of wheat bought and sold each day on the Chicago board of trade no one would suspect that there was any shortage in the supply.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Bryan thinks Parker should go on the stump—which would undoubtedly set people to drawing comparisons in favor of Bryan.

Racine Times: If a politician offers you a cigar think him kindly, but tell him your doctor has ordered you not to smoke.

Oshkosh Times: It is not exactly safe for a policeman to go on the theory that every unconscious person is drunk until his breath has been analyzed.

New York Tribune: "Another illustration of the effect of late hours is shown by the automobile out at St. Louis that undertook to climb a tree at 2 a. m. An automobile will always do its best to show its owner that it is not above enjoying a lark with him.

La Crosse Chronicle: That strike in Chicago is too much of an affair for a man of Carter Harrison's culture to handle. It is a big strike and Carter Harrison is not a big man.

Menasha Record: Queer, how men who are bending every effort to give their children a good education will refuse to vote for the scholar in politics and will hurrah for the ignorant as "one of the people."

Chicago Chronicle: Captain Hitch who "commanded" the militia at Statesboro, says he has no apologies to make and "would do the same thing again." As "the same thing" would involve surrendering to a crowd of loafers, we can readily credit the gallant captain's statement.

Kansas City Star: A Case county man who never subscribed to a newspaper in his life went to an editor the other day and asked him to let the public know through his paper that he had a sewing machine to trade for two hogs. He wanted the "red" free. The editor looked at the man a moment and then replied: "I can't see what you want the hogs for as long as you're around home so much yourself."

Machine News: It has been discovered that if the soil is scientifically fertilized and irrigated, the color of fruits especially apples, may be heightened to almost any extent. At the St. Louis fair some very red apples from the state of Washington attracted attention. The soil was treated with muriate of potash, and other chemicals, giving the color effect and a superior fruit.

Waukesha Freeman: Wm. B. Curtis, the well-known correspondent, writing for The Chicago Record-Herald, from Japan, urges President Roosevelt to use his influence in having Japanese taught in our public schools. Curtis believes that the success of the Japanese armies is very largely due to the good health, endurance and ability of the soldiers which results from the exercise and training involved in jujitsu—a scientific system of self-defense, by which a skilled person of inferior strength can defend himself successfully against a person of much greater size and physical force.

Evening Wisconsin: J. H. Young, a former employe in the office of Secretary of State Houser, has made an affidavit, which, if true, accounts for some of the increased expense of carrying on the administration of Governor La Follette. Mr. Young alleges under oath that political printing in the judicial campaign last spring and in the intellectual campaign against the renomination of Congressman Habcock in the third district was done in the office of the state printer by order of the state officials, and to the best of his knowledge and belief, was charged to the state, together with the cost of expressing the same. Young's affidavit also throws light upon a system of bleeding state employes for factional political purposes which is scandalous from the standpoint of those who believe in civil service reform.

HEAD STRUCK BY A TROLLEY POLE

WILLIAM DRUMMOND OF THIS CITY INJURED AT MADISON.

EMPLOYED AS A CONDUCTOR

On the Madison Traction Company's Line—Had Been in the Service But Ten Days.

The following account of an accident to William Drummond, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Drummond of this city, which happened at Madison yesterday afternoon, reached relatives in the city today. Mr. Drummond is well-known in this city where he conducted a grocery store here with his father, under the firm name of Drummond & Son. The following is the account of the accident:

William Drummond, a new conductor on a Madison Traction company car, while in the discharge of his duties, sustained serious injuries on West Main street, yesterday afternoon.

He was leaning out of the car in the manner of conductors, collecting fares, when his head struck a trolley pole. He was knocked to the ground and bled profusely about the head.
He was unconscious. The car stopped and Motorman Charles Cramer picked up the injured man and carried him to Menges' drugstore. Nothing could be done for him there and the ambulance was called to remove him to his boarding place at 316 North First street.

Dr. E. A. Brown was summoned to attend the injured man. He said that Mr. Drummond's skull was not fractured, but that an injury of that nature always left the way open for serious complications. Up to late last night he could not determine the exact nature or the extent of the injuries sustained and would not venture an opinion.

Mr. Drummond has been in the employ of the Madison Traction company 10 days. He is 24 years old, unmarried and recently came here from Janesville to work for the company. He was boarding with his uncle, James Carson, a motorman.
Conductors on the line express their indignation in strong terms at the presence of these life-threatening trolley poles, but say that they are given strict instructions to keep the left or pole side of the car. Old conductors have acquired the habit of collecting fares on the right side and are seldom seen in the dangerous place. Within the last few years, however, several people have been hurt in the same manner.

COME IN "SPECIAL" OF FIVE COACHES

"Old Pat" Bannam Visits Janesville To Tell About Musical Comedy "San Toy."

P. T. Bannam, known in theatrical circles as "Old Pat" Bannam, and for many years manager of one of the big theatres in Minneapolis, was a visitor at the Gazette office this morning. Mr. Bannam says that by instinct and choice he is a farmer and after he has concluded his present mission of acquainting the world in advance with the surpassing beauty of the musical comedy "San Toy," he will retire to his smiling acre at Lodi, Wisconsin, there to spend the balance of his days in sweet content with the comical cows and porkers and the mellifluous meadows. "Whatever we do on the stage, Nature always has us beaten at the start-off," says Mr. Bannam.
"But, conceding these limitations, "San Toy" is the greatest musical comedy that will tour the country this season. The re-appearance of James T. Powers in the cast is partly responsible, perhaps, for the big run we are now enjoying in New York.
Although he first appeared in this production at Daly's theatre, Chicago, three years ago, this season is to mark his first appearance with it on the road. The cast is a remarkable one and includes such favorites as George K. Fox, Margaret McKinney, John Penney, Josephine Neumann, and others whose names are doubtless familiar in Janesville.
We come here on Tuesday, September 6, in a special train of five coaches and after single nights in Madison, Superior, and Duluth will tour the far west. So much is to be said for "San Toy" that a single, lonesome press agent confined to a few minutes is sadly taxed. I have advised Manager John C. Fisher to send forth a lecturer into the field with instructions to hire halls in the cities we are to visit and give a two hours' description of the musical comedy for the benefit of those who are still groping in darkness and have not heard of it. Janesville should certainly make no other dates for Tuesday, September 6."

Yesterday afternoon in the midst of all the excitement over the escape of Eddie Fay a man named A. Leg-ler, who lives in Juda, telephoned from Amos Rehberg's store to Officer Pat Fanning at the city lock-up that he had just tracked some expert hold-up men all the way from Chicago and had them cornered and wanted. Before Fanning could respond he told another man that they were diamond thieves, and good ones, too. When Fanning arrived he found Mr. Legler was in a state which borders on the ridiculous and he was given a chance to part with his friend, Sir John Barleycorn, and think over his sad tale in the city lock-up. He made a slight resistance while being taken to the city's hotel.

SOCIETY.

The members of the Odd Fellow's Lodge and of the Rebekah's Lodge to the number of sixty, yesterday afternoon perpetrated a surprise on R. and Mrs. A. F. Watson at his home on Mineral Point Ave. The party went to the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Watson in the afternoon while their host and hostess were in the city.
Upon their return they were surprised to see their home in the possession of their friends. So complete were the plans and the carrying out of the same that Mr. Watson and his wife were almost dumbfounded for several minutes after they found out what had happened. The occasion was the fifty-sixth birthday of Mr.
Watson and it is needless to say that the afternoon and evening was a most enjoyable one. Card playing was the feature of the afternoon and evening, at the conclusion of which a most inviting luncheon was served.
The occasion will long be remembered by those who had the good fortune to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan South of Monroe with their two nieces were guests of Col. and Mrs. E. O. Kimberley yesterday afternoon, remaining over night. They left in their auto this morning for a few days in Rockford to attend the chautauqua.

A pleasant dancing party was given at the Porter and hall in the town of Porter last evening. About eighty couples, a number from this city, were in attendance, and all enjoyed the dancing and a very pleasant evening was passed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Palmer and daughter, Miss Florence Palmer, were Rockford visitors Thursday and also took in the chautauqua.

Mrs. M. Whalen of Monroe is visiting friends in the city.

Mrs. Ellen Carroll of Monroe spent yesterday with friends in the city.

Byron Bennett of Monroe transacted business in the city yesterday.

Miss Lucy Aldin has returned from a month's visit with friends in Kentucky and West Virginia.

A. M. Valentine, Miss Grace Valentine and Miss L. J. Halle visited in Chicago yesterday.

Mrs. J. J. Dulin and Mrs. Josie Turnbaugh were visitors at the Woodstock fair this week.

Mrs. Peter L. Myers is expected home from a visit with her parents at New Richmond tomorrow morning.

Sanford Soverhill and family are in camp at Lake Kegonsa, occupying the Porter cottage.

A. C. Larson and family have returned from a five weeks' outing at Ripley lake.

Miss Agnes Richards has returned from Mason City, Ia., where she has been visiting friends for the past week.

Miss Sadie Granger has returned from Amboy, Ill., where she has been visiting relatives.

Miss Ida Lester left at noon for a two weeks' visit in Chicago.

Miss Abbie McCarthy spent Thursday and Friday the guest of friends at Stoughton.

F. W. Walker and wife of Delavan are in the city to attend the funeral of the late Dennis Sullivan.

Miss Nellie Tolley of Chicago is spending a few days in the city the guest of friends.

Mrs. Sarah E. Duller has moved to Stoughton where she will make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Jake Strommen.

Mrs. Fred Tucker and children of Chicago are in the city the guest of Mrs. Tucker's mother, Mrs. W. T. Van Kirk.

The Misses Margaret McGiffin, Leo Westlake, Mahel Westlake, Rose Morrissey, of this city, attended the Hackbert-Land nuptials at Edgerton Wednesday.

Last night T. P. Burns and his corps of clerks, assisted by numerous drays, moved his stock of dry goods and carpets into their new home, directly across the street from the old stand, and this morning the new store is open and ready for business. This move gives Mr. Burns a great advantage and is the result of the demands of his large and growing trade. In his new location he is better able to take care of his extensive trade and to make a bid for increased patronage which will naturally rather around him. The new store is one of the handsomest and best equipped establishments in Janesville and is a fitting monument to Mr. Burns' enterprise. Particular attention has been paid to the lighting of the sales rooms and in this respect they are well high perfect.
The carpet department is on the second floor, the entire first floor being occupied by dry goods and notions.
Broad aisles, handsome show cases and every other comfort and convenience for customers will be found here.
Mr. Burns' fall stock has not arrived as yet and as he has bought heavily in anticipation of a large trade for the coming season, he will continue selling the present stock at the same radical reduction which moved such great quantities of goods from the old stand. The same policy which during the past nineteen years has been followed by Mr. Burns that of lowest possible prices on dependable merchandise, will be followed in the new store.

PROLIFIC INDIANRUBBER TREES.

Indianrubber trees which are tapped every other day continue to yield sap for more than twenty years; and it is a curious fact that the oldest and most frequently tapped trees produce the richest sap.

STRANGER WANTED TO PURCHASE WIG

May Have Been the Man Who Liberated Fay From the Jail—Smooth Spoken.

Thursday forenoon Mrs. Olive Sadler turned around from some work she was doing in her millinery and half dressing store on West Milwaukee street to be confronted by a well-dressed man who might be between the ages of twenty-two and thirty whom she had not heard enter. He spoke in a low voice and asked her if she dealt exclusively in wigs for ladies. She said that she had some wigs for men and he asked to look at them. The stranger said that he wanted a dark wig and a mustache on a beard of fine quality to be worn on the street. His own hair was brown and he explained that they were not for himself. He spent perhaps a half hour in the store looking over a few of these articles which Mrs. Sadler had on hand but could find nothing of a fine enough grade to suit him. The visitor was of medium height, and was dressed in a brown suit. After the news of the fall delivery on the following morning became known it occurred to Mrs. Sadler that there might possibly have been some connection between this stranger and the gang who resued Eddie Fay.

SCANDAL STARTS TOO EASILY

A Few Careless Words Will Bring About a Torrent of Abuse From the General Public.

To the Editor:
I am requested to state for the benefit of the general public that the electric light standards in front of the new postoffice are at last painted.
The work was completed during the past week and the improvement will be marked by all who go for their mail tomorrow morning. Now let some of the telephone and telegraph companies paint their poles within the city limits as the law requires and a good step will be taken in the general improvement of the city. The old motto "Cleanliness is next to god-liness" is true. No matter how dirty and begrimed an article looks a good taste of soap and water and a coat of paint will cover lots of defects. Old Noah Webster said many wise things in his old primer, but the one "Satan finds some mischief for idle hands to do" is perhaps the truest and most up-to-date. It is easy enough to voice a scandal and a mere whisper may become a whirlwind before the storm can be abated and the truth really told. People rush into print with stories which if they stopped to consider would never see the light of day. Notoriety is a sad lesson for many a young man or woman to seek to learn. Yet in this day and age everyone lives so swiftly and lives so much for themselves that they have no word of comfort or sympathy for their fellow men. On Friday morning there escaped from the lock county jail a noted criminal and already the sheriff and his assistants are criticised by ill-minded men in the light of All Safeguards Taken.

While I have not had much experience in jails and their capabilities of keeping prisoners within their confines, still I visited the structure with other citizens and investigated or rather looked at the means and methods used to liberate the criminal. It was a remarkable mind that planned the whole affair and such a mind would not have stopped at murder had they been detected in their work.
The gigantic door with its strong and capable locks, the iron cage surrounded by an open walk, the tiny cell where the prisoner slept, all looked impenetrable to me. They were the best money could buy. However, if the safe-makers today cannot make a safe that cannot be opened then can builders make a jail that cannot be gotten into in other than the legitimate channels? I think taking everything into consideration that Sheriff Appleby should be absolved from all blame in the matter and heaven be thanked that murder was not added to the soul of Eddie Fay, which would surely have happened had he been discovered while at his work.

The Street Work

The work on the street seems to progress slowly to the minds of many. I talked during the past week with several of the workmen and they say that not a day goes by that they do not to their full day's work on some one street or another. Heavy rains have washed out many of the hill roads, and these cannot be repaired in a day or even a week. Patience will be the best remedy for those who are impatient over delays at road work. "OLD FOGY."

Comparison of Wages.

Wages in the United States, on the average, are more than twice those in Belgium, three times those of Denmark, France, Germany, Italy and Spain, and one and one-half those in England and Scotland.

Young Man Look to Your Future

Fathers, What of Your Child's Future?

What a Business Education Means to You.

It means an ability to work your way upward in the world to heights, limited only by your capacity for higher and more responsible positions.

It means a successful termination of any business venture you may undertake.

It means a broader, more comprehensive appreciation of life and living.

It means a decided increase in your earning power and your value to yourself and your employer.

How to Obtain a Business Education.

By enrolling with the best business college obtainable and studying hard.

By never leaving any subject or any part of any subject until you are its master.

By applying your knowledge when leaving the college.

And, principally, first, last and all the time by working and working hard and constantly.

What to Do With a Business Education.

Use it to earn a living and to put you in positions where you may constantly improve your knowledge.

Use it to obtain an ultimate object in life which will be a credit to your thrift, industry and knowledge.

Do not think it will push you forward. It is merely a tool in your hands by which you may push yourself forward.

In speaking of a business education as well as anything else which entails an expenditure of money, the cost is an item of interest. In computing the cost, quality should be a paramount consideration. It is not what you pay for anything but what it is worth that determines the value of the article. There are institutions galore who can and do offer their courses at a much cheaper price than we ask for ours. But do they give as much satisfaction for a dollar as we do?

Our course is so thorough, so well taught, so comprehensive, that it costs us more money than a great many others. BUT IT PAYS MORE IN THE END. Our graduates are fully prepared to go into offices and commercial houses and do work of a high character.

It is admitted by the best authorities that there is a great dearth of competent help in the country today.

Another thing we wish to impress upon the minds of the young man or woman who contemplates making a future for themselves:

We do not recommend your taking up Shorthand or Bookkeeping as a life work. We urge you to use it as a stepping stone to something higher.

The private secretary of a great man is, naturally, in a position to learn a great many intricacies of business which are valuable to him because they make him valuable.

The bookkeeper is in a position to learn all about the conducting of great business enterprises and, when this knowledge is used in connection with ability, push and honesty, they invariably win out.
